

Step 5 – How to add and change Extensions with Opera.

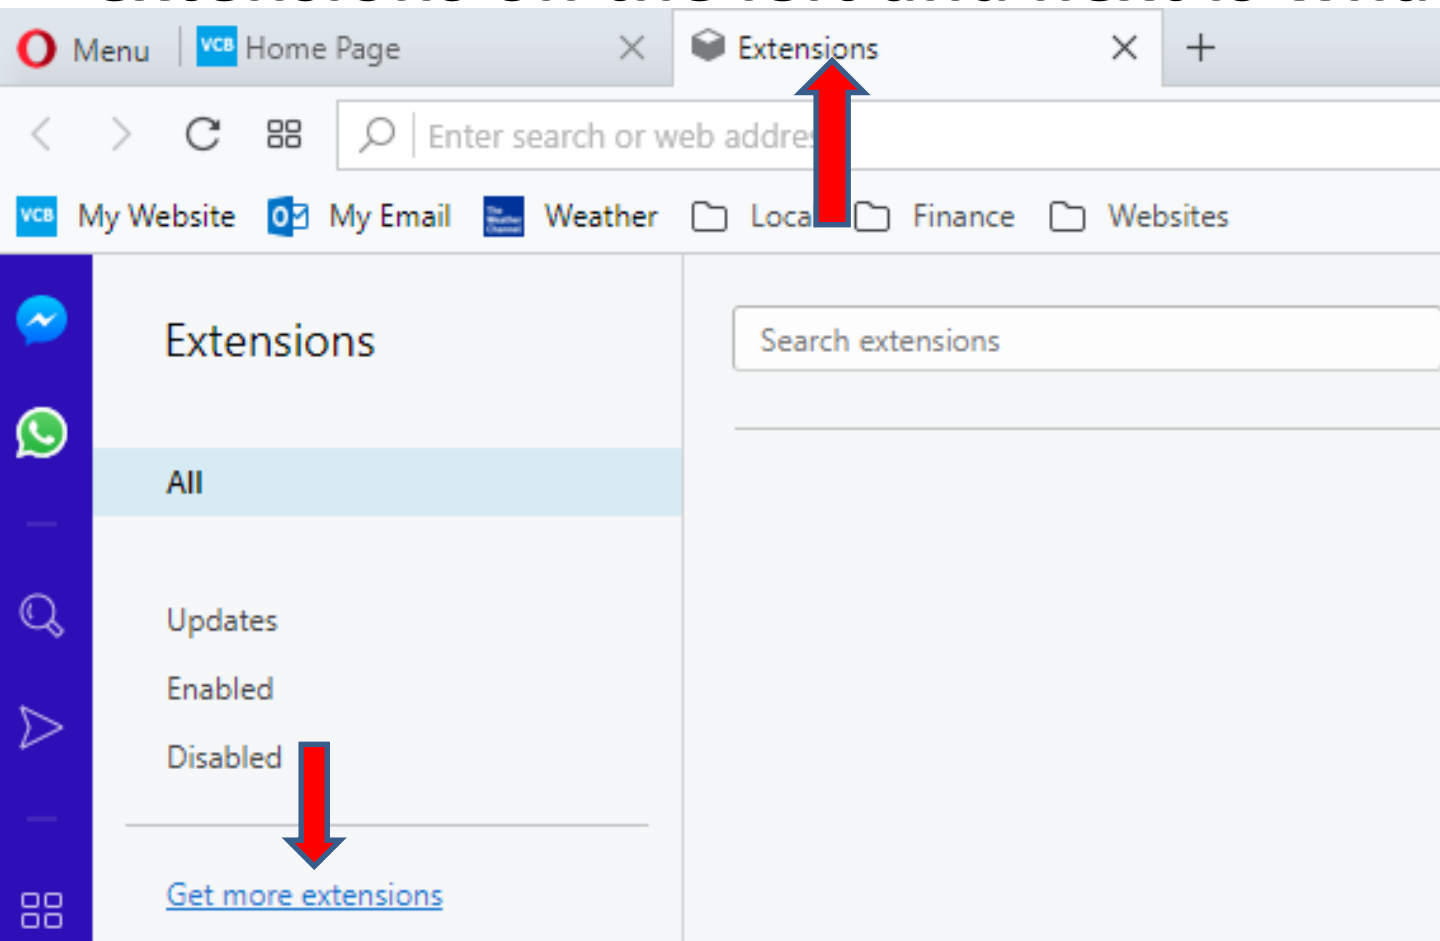

- As I mentioned in the Introduction, if you download a program from ninite.com, it is safe and it does not add Extensions. If you download a program from another website, sometimes it adds an Extension and it may not be safe. Also, when you click on a link in your e-mail or a website, sometimes it adds Extensions. That's why you should check the Extensions and check them again after you download a program.
- Next I will show you how to get to Extensions and add Extensions and after that how to disable them or remove them. Make sure Opera is open.

- You click on Menu in the upper left as I showed you in other Parts and then hover over Extensions and click on Extensions. Next is what happens.

- When you click on Extensions, a new Page opens and you may not see Extensions, like I don't have. If you have one that is not saved, I will show you later how to remove them. Click on more extensions on the left and next is what happens.

- A new page opens and you see Search to add-ons at the Top that is similar in other Browsers. You then type in one, like I mentioned in the Introduction. Next explains more about it.

The screenshot shows the Opera add-ons website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Opera logo, the text "Opera add-ons", and menu items for "Extensions", "Wallpapers", and "Develop". A "SIGN IN" button is located on the right side of the navigation bar. Below the navigation bar is a search bar labeled "Search for add-ons" with a magnifying glass icon. A large red arrow points upwards towards this search bar. The main content area features a featured extension card for "Faster browsing with Opera" which includes a colorful shield icon with a white 'X', the text "Faster browsing with Opera", a subtext "Block ads and surf the web up to 3x faster", and a blue "Try it out!" button. Below this card is a breadcrumb trail: "Home > Extensions". The "Extensions" section is titled "Extensions" and includes the subtitle "Add new functionality to Opera". There are several filter links: "Recommended", "Top rated", "Privacy & Security", "Speed Dial", "Sidebar", and "More...". Below the filters is a grid of extension cards. Each card displays an icon, the extension name, and a star rating with the number of reviews. The visible cards include: "Opera Ad blocker" (5 stars, 1360 reviews), "Install Chrome Extensions" (5 stars, 1235 reviews), "SaveFrom.net helper" (5 stars, 1223 reviews), "convert2mp3.net Online Video Co..." (5 stars, 110 reviews), "Translator" (5 stars, 1360 reviews), "LastPass" (5 stars, 1223 reviews), and "Gismeteo" (5 stars, 110 reviews).

- I tried Read Aloud and I did not find it. Also, I tried Web of Trust and I did not find it.
- I tried uBlock Origin and Ghostery and I found them.
- Next is how to add uBlock Origin and after that is how to add Ghostery.

- You type in uBlock Origin in the search and it shows a list and you see uBlock Origin at the top of the list. Then click on it and next is what happens.

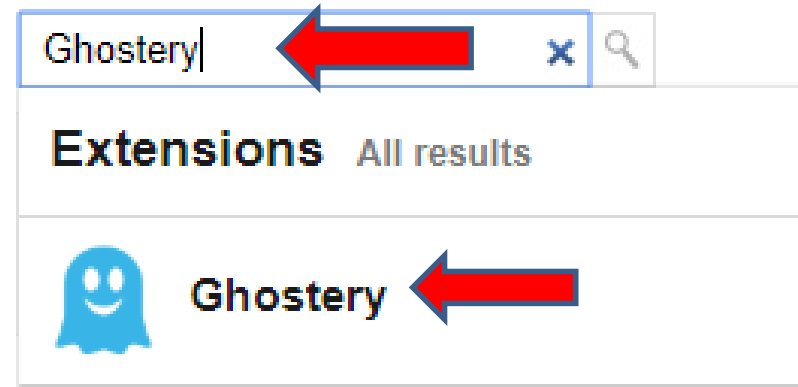

- When you click on it, page changes and you see uBlock Origin and you see Add to Opera right of it. Click on it and next is what happens.

The screenshot shows the Opera add-ons website. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Opera add-ons', 'Extensions', 'Wallpapers', and 'Develop'. A search bar is on the right. Below the navigation, there's a banner for Opera's built-in ad blocker with a 'Try it out!' button. The main content area shows the breadcrumb 'Home > Extensions > Privacy & Security > uBlock Origin'. The uBlock Origin extension is listed with its logo, name, developer 'gorhill', and a 4.5-star rating from 688 reviews. A red arrow points to the extension name. To the right of the extension details is a green 'Add to Opera' button, which is also pointed to by a red arrow. Below the extension details, there's an 'About this extension' section with metadata like 'Downloads: 1,000,000+', 'Category: Privacy & Security', 'Version: 1.24.0', 'Size: 2.0 MB', and 'Last update: May 21, 2018'. There are also links for 'License', 'Privacy policy', 'Support page', and 'Source code page'. At the bottom, there's a 'Related' section with 'Rule AdBlocker' listed.

- It takes a minute and once complete, you see Installed right of uBlock Origin and you see the Icon in the upper right. I zoomed in so you can see it. Next is a sample of typing in Ghostery

The screenshot shows the Opera add-ons website for the uBlock Origin extension. The browser's address bar shows 'addons.opera.com/en/extensions/details/ublock/'. The page features the Opera logo, navigation links for 'Extensions', 'Wallpapers', and 'Develop', and a search bar. A banner for Opera's ad-blocking feature is visible. The main content area displays the uBlock Origin extension by gorhill, with a 4.5-star rating and 688 reviews. A green 'Installed' badge with a checkmark is prominently displayed above the extension details. A red arrow points from the 'Installed' badge to the extension icon in the browser's top right corner. Another red arrow points from the extension icon in the browser's top right corner to the 'Installed' badge. The extension details include a description, a link to an efficiency comparison, usage instructions, and a 'Show more' link. The 'About this extension' section lists download statistics, category, version, size, and update information, along with links for license, privacy policy, support page, and source code page. A 'Related' section is also visible at the bottom.

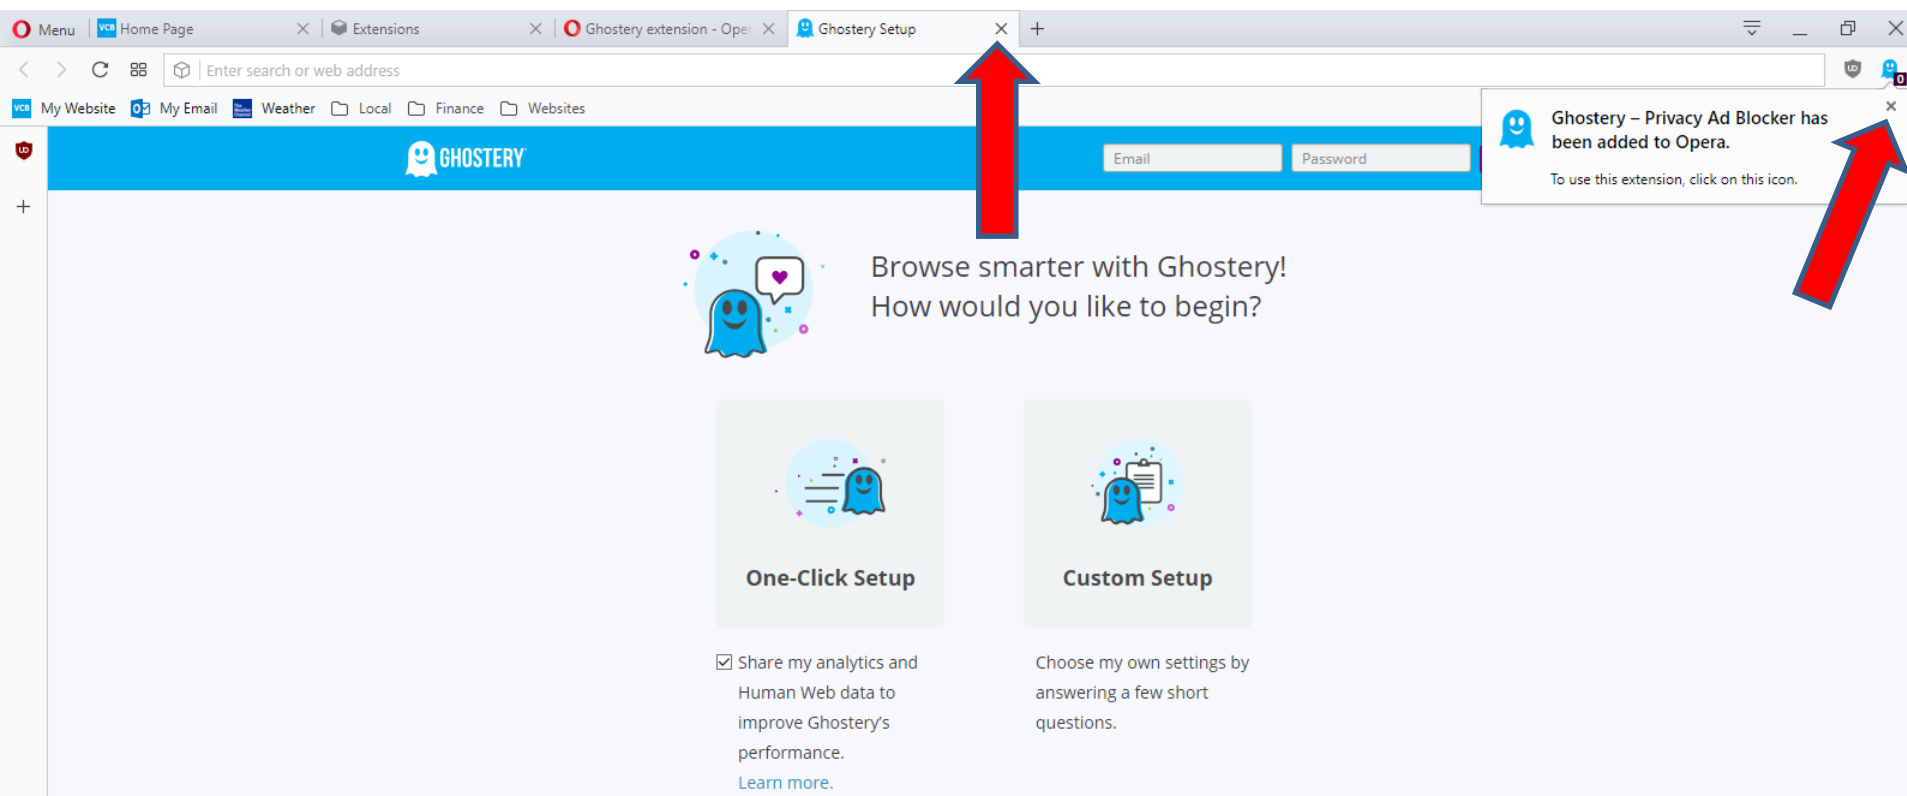

- Here is a sample of typing Ghostery in the search and it shows a just Ghostery under it. Then click on it and next is what happens.

- When you click on it, page changes again and you see Ghostery and you see Add to Opera right of it again. Click on it and next is what happens.

Once you click on it, it is in process and once complete, a new Tab page opens and you see the Icon in the upper right with a new window. You can click on X in the upper right of the window to close it and click on X next to the new Tap page to close it. Next is a sample of clicking on both of them.

Here is a sample of clicking on both of them and it goes back to the other page and you see in Installed and the Icon in the upper right. I zoomed in so you can see the Icon. You can click on X next to this page to close it and it goes back to Extensions page, which is next
